

| Question   | Answer   |
|--|--|
| Is alcohol permitted in AIUla?                           | Alcohol is strictly prohibited in Saudi Arabia. The sale, purchase, consumption, and importation of alcohol or drugs are illegal.  |
| Can unmarried couples travel and stay together in AIUla? | Saudi Arabia welcomes visitors from around the world. Unmarried couples may share accommodation, and women can travel independently and comfortably throughout AIUla.  |
| Is tipping customary in AIUla?                           | Tipping is appreciated but not obligatory. Guests may leave small change or round up the bill as a polite gesture.   |
| What currency is used in AIUla?                          | The official currency is the Saudi Riyal (SAR). Credit cards and contactless payments are widely accepted, although some smaller shops may prefer cash.  |
| What type of electrical outlets are used?                | United Kingdom (Type G).   |
| Where can visitors purchase a local SIM card?            | SIM cards can be purchased from STC branches and other telecom providers. They may also be activated and managed via the STC mobile application.   |
| Do I need a visa to visit AIUla?                         | Most nationalities can apply for a Saudi eVisa online. We recommend checking official visa requirements before travel.   |
| What is the best time to visit AIUla?                    | The ideal season is October to April, when the weather is mild and outdoor experiences are most enjoyable.   |
| Do I need to book experiences in advance?                | Yes. Many tours, heritage sites, and seasonal events require advance booking, particularly during peak festival periods. AIUla Guide can help in securing bookings.  |
| Are guided tours necessary?                              | While some areas can be explored independently, guided tours provide deeper historical and cultural insight. AIUla Guide can provide local guides who can speak in multiple language for easier communication. |
| Can I rent a car in AIUla?                               | Yes. Car rental services are available, and cars driven by local guides can also be arranged by AIUla Guide.   |